

IWLA National Conservation Scholarship

The IWLA National Conservation Scholarship supports rising junior and senior college undergraduates from recognized conservation or environment-related degree programs. These degree programs may include (but are not limited to) environmental science, natural resource management, forestry, wildlife, fisheries, parks and recreation, range management, and other related sciences such as ecology, biology (conservation/field/marine), geology, hydrology, and zoology.

Category #1: Previous IWLA Chapter/Division Scholarship recipient.

Category #2: Current IWLA member OR child/grandchild of a current IWLA member.

Each scholarship category includes a $2,500 scholarship and a one-year IWLA student membership. To download the IWLA National Conservation Scholarship application, see <https://www.iwla.org/outdoor-recreation/youth/conservation-scholarship>. Applications must be postmarked no later than May 15th.

Note: This National IWLA scholarship program is not administered by our Chapter. For more information about the scholarship and application process visit <https://www.iwla.org/outdoor-recreation/youth/conservation-scholarship>. The recipients of the National Conservation Scholarships are officially announced at the IWLA National Convention in July. They will also be featured in an issue of Outdoor America magazine later in the year.*
